Time2Save was started by two moms (Kasey Trenum & Kelly Thompson) whose families had both been affected by the recent economic changes. They were looking for creative ways to cut their expenses and bring in more money for their family budgets. What they found was incredible ways to save at the grocery store. Still buying the same things they'd always bought and shopping at the same stores, they learned to combine store and manufacturer savings to cut their grocery bill by over 80%. This translated to taking their grocery bill from $150 a week down to $30 a week. Time2Save will teach you how to do the same. You will learn the incredible ways you can now afford to bless others out of the abundance of your savings. Take the challenge and get ready to save more than you every dreamed.
